Dear Harold:

I was out of the country until January 5th, and hence, have not had an opportunity to respond to your letter of December 21st sooner.

I was pleased to learn that you have finished the draft of your book, and that you are now embarking on another volume. I am not sure what you are referring to with regard to an article about Oswald in the Journal of Forensic Sciences. However, I shall check my back issues and make some inquiries to see if I can find such an article. If you have any more precise information as to the author, title, and approximate date of publication (even the year would help), please let me know.

I hope that your health is stable, and that you are able to continue with your incredibly prodigious efforts for many years to come.

With kind regards and best wishes for the New Year.

Sincerely,

Cyril H. Wecht, M.D., J.D.
